BAR-CODE READER AND METHOD OF READING BAR-CODE

Abstract

In a bar-code generally number of modules corresponding to each character is seven. However, if the number of modules judged from the data obtained by reading a bar code is, for example, six, the character is demodulated using a demodulation-pattern table corresponding to six modules.